FROM THE PUBLISHER

The first edition of 'NACCIMA Business Directory & Nigeria Economic Guide, came out in 2008, the directory was well - received locally and internationally, providing the tonic for this revised and updated edition.

The primary vision behind the 'NACCIMA Business Directory & Nigeria Economic Guide is for it to serve as a source of business information and link to Nigerian entrepreneurs seeking wider access to internal markets, and for international companies and investors seeking joint venture partners and markets intermediate and capital goods in Nigeria.

Undoubtedly, Nigeria is the largest market in Sub-Saharan Africa. It is the continent's foremost business destination with over 140 Million Population and markets stretching into West Africa Sub-Region. Although the country is one of the richest in mineral resources, with reserves of about 30 billions barrels of oil, over two million barrels, per day in production making it the sixth largest producer in the world, and a strong member of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC); over 110 trillion cubic feet of gas and one of the world's most ambitious liquefied gas plants, etc, the opportunities in Nigeria are still largely untapped.

Now, Nigeria is politically stable and democratically governed. Economically too, the country is being stabilized as the Central Bank has been streamlining financial policies to enhance favourable investment climate. There is now a favourable climate for the emergence of a vibrant and efficient industrial growth. There are serious challenges in the power sector and President Goodluck Jonathan has made power generation the focal point of his administration.

All these policies are essentially to re-invigorate the commercial and industrial sectors of the economy. This repackaged publication is divided into two parts: the first part deals with listing of corporate members of NACCIMA, City/States Chambers of Commerce, Professional/Business Associations and Bilateral chambers of Commerce in Nigeria, while the second part offers a comprehensive listing of commercially active companies in corporate governance arena (Members of NACCIMA and Non-members), members of diplomatic corps (Foreign Embassies & Consulates), Government (Federal/States) Parastatals and Ministries, Institutions of Learning, Non-Governmental Organisations, Hotels, Health Facilities, Professional/Business Associations etc . Electronic version of the directory can be accessed in the internet on www.naccimadirectory.com and in the C.D Rom attached to each copies of the publication

We have expanded in this edition, the listed of companies and updated the sections on very best business information. We are sure that this directory will serve as a practical tool for those who wish to conduct business in Nigeria - Nigerians and foreign entrepreneurs.

PREFACE

It is a great opportunity for me to write the Preface for the NACCIMA Business Directory and Nigeria Economic Guide. This edition is more enriched and revised version of the maiden publication of the Directory which came out in 2008. In its first publication, NACCIMA had promised an annual review. This edition is therefore in keeping with that promise. I therefore wish to congratulate NACCIMA for not only living up to that promise but more importantly for its pioneering role in this regard. This is more so given the commitment of the Federal Government to the Seven-Point Agenda and Vision 20:2020.

By providing accurate and up-to-date contact information and details of all commercially active companies in the corporate governance field, the Association has provided veritable business information for both local and international business persons. The wider benefits of these for the promotion of business and commercial activities cannot be over-emphasized.

The revised edition contains names, addresses, telephone/fax numbers, e-mail/website addresses and the management and board of directors of companies listed in the corporate profile section. It also contains a brief summary of the activities of the companies so listed.

In the process, companies/corporations are availed of the opportunity to showcase their potentials and their innovations to the business world. This publication goes beyond the corporate world by being further enriched with comprehensive addresses of Governments (Federal and States), Ministries/Departments, Parastatals, institutions of higher learning, NGOs and health facilities.

With the inclusion of Governments, their parastatals and activities, the publication has gone further to bring governments and their activities closer to the business community. This is very commendable especially given the primacy of the Government in the promotion and facilitation of commercial activities. It is a further recognition of the interface that should exist between the corporate world and its governments.

With its wide circulation and an array of business information, there is no doubt that the publication has become a reference document for business and commercial information both within Nigeria and beyond. Through its wide reach, it creates a platform for one-on-one interaction between Nigerian business persons and their foreign counterparts. This will further go a long way in not only providing easy access to business information but equally aid Direct Foreign Investments that are direly needed for the economic transformation of our country.

The directory is therefore not only visionary and ambitious but equally in tandem with the current efforts of the Government to provide a favourable environment for the rapid industrial development of our nation. It is against the foregoing background that the efforts that have been put into the publication by NACCIMA have to be fully appreciated.

I therefore commend the Association for the Vision and hardwork that have crystallized into this very important business document. It is my belief that it will be of great value to all those who wish to do business in Nigeria.

I strongly recommend the directory to all business persons both within the shores of this nation and outside of it. Once again, congratulations for a good job as I urge the Association to ensure that its promise of annual reviews is sustained. This way, the directory will be able to rise to the challenges of our ever changing business environment and our nation will be better for it.

Achike Udenwa

Honourable Minister of Commerce & Industry

FORWARD

Nigerian Association of Chambers of Commerce, Industry, Mines and Agriculture (NACCIMA) founded in 1960, (50 years ago) has been in the forefront of business advocacy in our country. It's membership comprises of city/state Chambers of Commerce across the country, Bilateral Chambers, Corporate Organisations, Professional and Business Associations.

NACCIMA's role in championing the course of business is entrenched in the fact that it encourages and promotes the nation's private sector. The perspective of NACCIMA is in accordance with contemporary ideas of the Chambers of Commerce Movement the world over.

The NACCIMA Business Directory and Economic Guide is to serve as a catalyst to our country's transformation policies as articulated in Vision 20-20-20.

The Business Directory is an effort by the NACCIMA to meet the needs arising from the paucity of information on a wide range of business for people who want to deal with genuine companies in Nigeria.

The Directory is not only a compendium of business contacts in Nigeria but also a valuable reference document for foreign businessmen and women who want to invest in the country.

The information herein is packaged in highly articulate manner so as to provide the business community, in and outside the country, easy understanding of the Nigerian business terrain.

I am delighted and highly honoured to give the forward to this publication as our great Association (NACCIMA) turns 50. I wish the Association Sustainable healthy growth and development as it celebrates its 50 years of business advocacy.

Dr. Simon Chukwuemeka Okolo, MFR
NATIONAL PRESIDENT

GEOGRAPHY

Nigeria is situated in the West African region and lies between longitudes 3 degrees and 14 degrees and latitudes 4 degrees and 14 degrees. It has a land mass of 923,768sq.km. It is bordered to the North by the Republics of Niger and Chad. It shares borders to the West with the Republic of Benin, while the Republic of Cameroun shares the Eastern borders right down to the shores of the Atlantic Ocean which forms the Southern limits of the Nigerian Territory. The about 800km of coastline confers on the country the potentials of a maritime power. Land is in abundance in Nigeria for agricultural, industrial and commercial activities.

CLIMATE

Temperatures across the country are relatively high with a very narrow variation in seasonal and diurnal ranges (22-36t). There are two basic seasons; wet season which lasts from April to October: and the dry season which lasts from November till March. The dry season commences with Harmattan, a dry chilly spell that lasts till February and is associated with lower temperatures, a dusty and hazy atmosphere brought about by the North-Easterly winds blowing from the Arabian peninsular across the Sahara; the Second half of the dry season, February - March, is the hottest period of the year when temperatures range from 33 to 38 degrees centigrade. The extremes of the wet season are felt on the South-Eastern coast where annual rainfall might reach a high of 330cm; while the extremes of the dry season in aridity and high temperatures, are felt in the North end of the country.

VEGETATION

In line with the rainfall distribution, a wetter South and a drier Northern half, there are two broad vegetation types: Forests and Savanna. There are three variants of each, running as near parallel bands East to West across the country. Forests, Savanna, Saline water swamp, Guinea Savanna, Fresh water swamp, Sudan Savanna, Tropical (high) evergreen Sahel Savanna.

Rainforest-There is also the mountain vegetation of the isolated high plateau regions on the far Eastern extremes of the country (Jos, Mambilla, Obudu).

The tropical evergreen rain forest belt bears timber production and forest development, production of cassava; and plantation growing of fruit trees - citrus, oil palm, cocoa and rubber, among others.

POPULATION & LABOUR FORCE

Nigeria is famous for her huge population of about 140 million people - the largest national populations on the African continent. This population is made up of about 374 pure ethnic stocks. Three of them, Hausa, Ibo and Yoruba are the major groups and constitute over 40 per cent of the population. In fact, about 10 ethnic linguistic groups constitute more than 80 per cent of the population: the other large groups are Tiv, Ibibio, Kanuri, Nupe, Gwari, Igala, Jukum, Idoma, Fulani, Edo Urhobo and Ijaw. The gender divide of Nigeria's population, as indicated by census 1991, reflects an unusual imbalance in favour of male dominance; 51 per cent male: 49 per cent female.

Large work force - working age group 15 - 59 is over 40 per cent of the population. Due to a massive expansion in the education sector in the last two decades, the coloration and quality of the Nigerian work force has changed to include a large corps of highly trained personnel in mechanical, civil, electrical, electronics, chemical and petroleum engineering and biotechnics.

EDUCATION

There are at present over 30 Federal and state Universities, some of them specialist - Technology and Agriculture. In Addition there are at least 20 Federal and State Polytechnics. Over 70, 000 graduates in various disciplines form these institutions every year. Disciplines, apart from Pure Sciences, Engineering and Technologies, include Social Sciences, Business Studies (Management, Banking and Finance), Architecture, Environment and Urban Management Studies. Also, a sizeable Nigerian population has been and is being trained outside the country, in some of the best colleges in the United States, Canada, United Kingdom, Germany, France, Russia, Japan and China. Every year, about 2,000 of these Nigerians return home to seek employment or accommodation within the economy. For the less skilled and unskilled labour, the country depends on the Primary and Secondary school systems whose annual enrolments are over 3.5 million and 1.5 million, respectively.

RESOURCES: AGRICULTURAL, MINERAL AND MARINE

Nigeria, in addition to its huge population is endowed with significant agricultural, mineral, marine and forest resources. Its multiple vegetation zones, plentiful rain, surface water and underground water resources and moderate climatic extremes, allow for production of diverse food and cash crops. Over 60 per cent of the population is involved in the production of the food crops such as cassava, maize, rice, yams, various beans and legumes, soya, sorghum, ginger, onions, tomatoes, melons and vegetable. The main cash crops are cocoa, cotton, groundnuts, oil palm and rubber. Extractions from these for export and local industrial use include cocoa flour and butter, rubber crumb, vegetable oil, Cotton fibre and yarn. The rain forests have been well exploited for timber and wood products of exotic and popular species.

Oil and Gas, by value, are the most important minerals. They are exploited and produced in the Niger Delta basin and off-shore on the continental shelf and in the deep - sea of the territorial waters. Nevertheless, there are significant non-oil mineral deposits on land many of which have been identified and evaluated: coal, iron ore, gypsum, kaolin, phosphates, lime-stone, marble, columbite, baryte and gold.

THE ECONOMY

With a population of over 140 million people, Nigeria is obviously the largest market in sub Saharan Africa with reasonably skilled and potential manpower for the efficient and effective management of investment projects within the country. It is well connected by a wide network of motorable all-season roads, railway tracks, inland waterways, maritime and air transportation.

MAIN THRUST OF NIGERIA'S TRADE AND INDUSTRIALISATION POLICY

Nigeria's current industrial policy thrust is anchored on a guided de-regulation of the economy and Government's dis-engagement from activities which are private-sector oriented, leaving Government to play the role of facilitator, concentrating on the provision of incentives, policy and infrastructure that are necessary to enhance the private sector's role as the engine of growth.

NACCIMA BUSINESS DIRECTORY & NIGERIA ECONOMIC GUIDE

BACKGROUND INFORMATION ON NACCIMA

The NACCIMA, established in April 1960, is the umbrella organization for all the various affiliate Chamber-members within the country. The Association at this time embraced the Anglo-Saxon Model of membership, which is voluntary, but non-the-less provides a platform for the consultation and joint action by Chambers of Commerce in the country. The Association at its inception was known as the Association of Chambers in Nigeria and Southern Cameroon.

By April 1963, the name changed to the Association of chambers of Commerce and Mines of Nigeria. In 1972 during its Annual General Meeting in Ibadan, the members agreed in principle to change its name to the Nigerian Association of Chambers of Commerce, Industry, Mines and Agriculture (NACCIMA). However, this name did not come to effect until 1978.

At inception, the Association had a membership of six Chambers of which Lagos Chamber of Commerce founded in 1888 is one of them. The growing number of Chambers of Commerce in Nigeria was actually what gave impetus to the incorporation of the Association to articulate the views of these Chambers under a platform for effective and meaningful advocacy for better policies and business.

By 1978, the Association's membership grew to about a dozen and today the membership of the Association has undergone a rapid growth, with its present complexion, brought about by its restructuring in 1999. Its current membership, which is voluntary, now encompasses City/State and Bi-lateral Chambers, Business Associations/Professional bodies and corporate organizations. The registration by these new entities with the NACCIMA, has helped not only to further consolidate its position as an apex business body, but also strengthened it further to enable it play its role much better as the "Voice of the Nigeria Business". The Association's present membership, which is put at about 234 is categorised, thus:

	City/States Chambers of Commerce	-	46
	Bilateral Chambers	-	4
	Business/Professional Associations	-	6
	Corporate Membership	-	178

The perspective of the NACCIMA is in accord with contemporary ideas of the Chambers of Commerce Movement in relatively free enterprise economies the world over.

OBJECTIVES

The Primary objectives of the Association are:

Such Committees/Groups include Finance & General Purposes; Building; Foundation; Membership Development; Government-Relations; Business Ethics; Economic & Statistics; Technical Education; Agriculture; Industrial & SMI; Trade, Investment & Technology Promotion; Power Sector Reform; NACCIMA Export Action Group (NEXAG), NACCIMA Business Women Group, among others.

Relationship with Government and Private Sector Organisations

A basic tenet of the Association is the development of a working relationship with government regardless of its political complexion. This principle, which is regularly honoured, has given it adequate recognition by government both at the national and state levels. In addition increasing interaction has been taking place between NACCIMA and the Federal Government and its agencies, and between the City/State Chambers and their respective States and Local Governments. To this end, the NACCIMA serves on various governmental Committees and Boards of government Parastatals and Institutions.

The Association also maintains a cooperative relationship with other bodies, which represents segments of the Organised Private Sector (OPS) of the Nigerian economy and with which it has interlocking membership particularly at the federal, state and local government levels. Such organizations include, Manufacturers' Association of Nigeria (MAN), Nigerian Employers' Consultative Association of Nigeria (NECA), Nigerian Association of Small and Medium Enterprises (NASME), among others. Joint representation are often made by all or some of these sister organizations to the Federal Government.

International Relations

One of the ways in which the NACCIMA strives to achieve its primary objectives is by promoting commercial and industrial cooperation with other countries . It organises periodic economic missions abroad as a means of familiarising foreign businessmen with Nigeria's potential and marketing made-in-Nigeria goods and services. In addition to attracting foreign capital, technology and management into the country, the Association has signed a number of cooperation agreements with foreign Chambers of Commerce and other Business Associations to help establish and promote a framework for cooperation in the field of commerce and industry. The NACCIMA is a foundation member of the Federation of West African Chambers of Commerce (FEWACC), as well as member of the International Chambers of Commerce (ICC) and African Chambers of Commerce (ACC).

In fulfilment of its mandate, the NACCIMA in collaboration with the Centre for International Private Enterprise (CIPE), Washington, D.C. mounted a number of capacity building programmes in support of the emerging market economy in the country since the late eighties. Such programmes include, Public Policy Advocacy, Capacity Building for Chambers of Commerce and Business Associations, Training for Journalists on Business & Economic Reporting, Watch Dog function on Economic Policies, Crafting of National Business Agenda and Accreditation Programme, Establishing Standards of Excellence in Governance, Public Policy Advocacy and Management, amongst many others.

ACHIEVEMENTS

The Association has taken a number of giant strides since 1960 when it was founded. Through its advocacy role, the Association has been able to make tremendous impact as the "Voice of Nigeria Business" and on the economy as a whole. This is evident by the increasing consultations by Government and the National Assembly with the Association, especially under the present democratic dispensation.

In specific terms, the major achievements of NACCIMA could be seen in the following areas:

 It has been instrumental to the implementation and establishment/introduction of a number of Policy Issues and institutions/bodies. Such include, introduction of Indigenisation Decree (1972), creation of ECOWAS (1975), establishment of the Federation of West African Chambers of Commerce (FEWACC), abolition of Import Duty Levy (1980) and Compulsory Deposit for Import (1984), introduction of Export Incentives (1985/86), abolition of Advance Payment of Import Duties (1988), payment of Government Domestic Debts (1987 - 88), abolition of Excess Profit Tax and creation of the utility Tariff Review Board (1991), reduction in Company Income Tax from 45 per cent to 35 per cent (1996), establishment of ECOBANK Transitional Incorporated with subsidiaries in 25 Countries in West, Central, Eastern, and Southern African Countries including Nigeria, promotion and establishment of new City and States Chambers of Commerce all over the Federation, privatisation of government owned Business Enterprises and Public Utilities, including the handing over of staging of International Fairs to the Chambers of Commerce, establishment of a chapter of International Chamber of Commerce (ICC) in Nigeria, and many more.

 In appreciation of the role it plays, the NACCIMA is represented in many Government Boards and Committees to enable it observe closely and make meaningful contributions to enhance the growth of the national economy.

- ✎ Since 1989, NACCIMA has successfully organised series of Workshops/seminars programmes aimed at building capacities and improving business operations in Nigeria.
- ✎ The Association since 1997 produces National Business Agenda bi-annually to influence Government decisions and guide its members in certain key issues on which the Association had taken a stand in addition to the pre and post budget memoranda it sends to government annually.
- ✎ The NACCIMA has made a lot of impact through its advocacy role, from the grassroots to the Federal level. It has successfully built bridges across other business associations leading to the signing of Memorandum of Understanding between it and the Manufacturers, Association of Nigeria (MAN), Nigerian Employers' Consultative Association (NECA), Nigerian Association of Small and Medium Scale Enterprises (NASME) and Nigerian Association of Small Scale Industrialists (NASSI). This pact has reduced greatly the voice of dissent that unusually arose after the budget and other government policy pronouncements. These bodies work together now to articulate and present memorandum to government (referred to as OPS Memo) on issues of common interest for the general well-being of the economy
- ✎ The NACCIMA also meets regularly with different arms and parastatals of the government, including the Presidency and National Assembly on germane socio-economic issues.
- ✎ The NACCIMA in collaboration with Centre for International Private Enterprises (CIPE), Washington, DC, in year 2007 engage on a project "Business Participation in the legislative Process" which is designed to increase the level of participation of the Nigerian business community in the legislative process through the monitoring of proceedings in the National Assembly. Legislative Assistants employed by NACCIMA assist the Association to monitor debates in National Assembly, especially Draft Bills that affect business and the economy and pass relevant information to the Business Community to enhance its participation.
- ✎ The project also entails the monthly publication of Legislative Alert, which takes account of Bills before the National Assembly and comments as appropriate. The voting pattern of the elected members are observed and published.
